

GUNPLA Basic Course

What is GUNPLA?

GUNPLA are plastic model kits that recreate robots known as Mobile Suits and Mobile Armors featured in the Mobile Suit Gundam series. Over 2000 types of kits have been released ever since the creation of the 1/144 Gundam in 1980, and a total of over 500 million kits have been sold.

Basic ways to assemble GUNPLA

1 Cut out the parts

Follow the steps on the instruction manual and remove the required parts from their frames (runners).

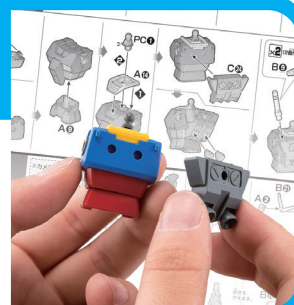

Please prepare a pair of nippers (sold separately) to assemble the kit.

2 Assemble

Follow the instruction manual and pay attention to the direction of the parts while assembling. The instruction manuals include easy to read three-dimensional diagrams.

3 Apply stickers

Colors of certain parts are recreated by applying stickers. Using tweezers will make it easier to apply small stickers.

4 Complete!!

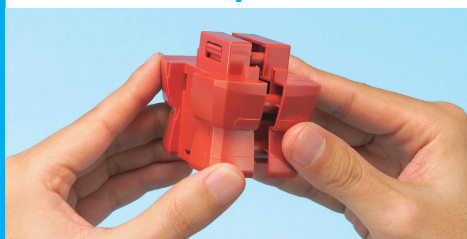

Anyone can follow the instruction manual and easily complete their kit.

Extraordinary GUNPLA Technology!

Parts can be snapped together without any glue!

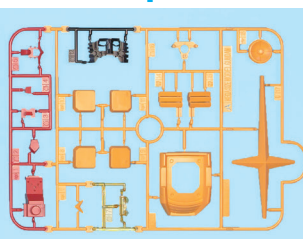

Snap-fit

GUNPLA parts can be fitted together without any glue and can be easily assembled.

Colorful without painting!

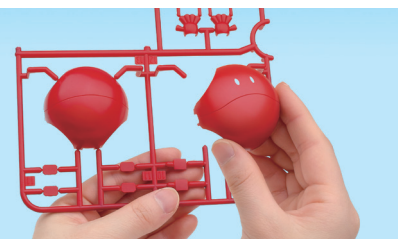

Iropla

Multiple colors are recreated on a single frame (runner), enabling colorful results by simply assembling the kit.

Assembly without tools!

Touch Gate

There are products where the parts can be removed without any tools such as nippers.

A Variety of GUNPLA Grades

GUNPLAs come in a number of series known as Grades depending on their scales and concepts. HG and SD series kits can be easily assembled, and the MG and PG series kits offer a more full-fledged experience. Different GUNPLAs can be chosen to fulfill all kinds of needs.
